

Country Towns Vote Republican 2 to 1

Severe set backs were delivered to the Democratic party in the northwest suburbs at Tuesday's election. The vote averaged two to one in all of the townships. County Commissioner Busse and his cohorts defeated the Democratic candidates for commissioner by an average of 53,000 votes throughout the county. In the six Northwest towns Mr. Busse received 5716 as compared with 2792. Barrington township voted Republican nearly three to one.

Noble J. Puffer, democratic county superintendent of schools was high man among the Democratic candidates in the six townships. Palatine, his home town, gave him 754 votes compared to 670 cast for Clark, the next highest candidate. In Barrington township Mr. Puffer was also high man with 407 votes. The same condition was in Wheeling township.

Arthur Bidwill, who was the only other Republican, aside from the country town commissioners to be elected was given a majority of two to one in nearly all townships, which helped him to gain win by a majority of 32,000, the state senatorial seat from which he was ousted two years ago.

The detailed returns appear in another column.

Despite an overwhelming Republican majority cast in Northwest Cook county, the entire Democratic slate with the exception of five county commissioners from the country towns were swept into office in Tuesday's general election, returns indicated late Wednesday.

A newcomer to the commission-er race, George F. Nixon of Glenview joined incumbents William Busse, William N. Erickson, H. Wallace Caldwell and George A. Miller in celebrating the Republican party's only vestige of Cook county victory.

Adding Chicago machine controlled votes to strong downstate support, the Democratic ticket scored what amounts to almost a clean sweep. State officers were solidly in the Democratic camp as Lucas, Louie E. Lewis, Adam F. Bloch, T. V. Smith, John C. Martin and John A. Wieland assumed huge majorities.

James C. Moreland's Congressional bid from the Seventh District appeared doomed despite a strong majority in the country towns.

Republicans returned Bernice T. Van der Vries, Winnetka, to the state assembly with Arthur W. Sprague of La Grange, Democrat Emmett McGrath of Brookfield was re-elected. In an accumulative vote, Van der Vries polled 9,428; Sprague, 9,176; and McGrath 6,190.

Maine Township
Maine Township Republican leaders delivered their 32-precinct electorate almost three to one as Richard J. Lyons, G.O.P. candidate for United States Senate, led the ticket. Defeated in the senatorial race in returns from the state at large, Lyons polled 6,237 in Maine township as against 2,331 here for the Democratic Senator-elect, Scott W. Lucas of Havana.

Second highest on the Maine ticket was William Busse of Mt. Prospect who paced a victorious Republican re-entry into the Country towns stronghold with 6,207 votes. Other G.O.P. winners polled as follows: Miller, 6,155; Erickson, 6,107; Caldwell, 6,147; and Nixon 6,156. Democratic candidates were snowed under three to one.

Total votes cast in the November 8 election in Maine township reached 8,679, roughly three thousand short of registration figures.

Sustaining Republican candidates on every front, Maine township rallied to Arthur J. Bidwill a 6,125 to 2,161 lead over incumbent State Senator Charles F. Baumrucker in what proved to be one of the hottest battles of the campaign. Bidwill carried the election with 78,933 votes to Baumrucker's 51,579 in returns from 428 precincts out of 477.

Church Easy Winner
Ralph Church, congressman from the tenth district was again an easy winner after a hotly contested election. His majority in Tuesday's election was 39,596 as compared with a majority of 18,000 two years ago. He received 113,336 votes in Cook county and 28,561 in Lake county while his opponent received 86,328 in Cook county and 15,973 in Lake county.

Strict Economy Necessary To Prevent Village Deficit

The inevitable has arrived. The village of Arlington Heights is broke. Regardless how big hearted the village aldermen have been in the past when appeals for aid were received in the interest of various civic needs, those aldermen will hereafter be compelled to turn a deaf ear.

Taking the stand that the people of Arlington Heights is one big family there have been many occasions during the last few years when the village treasury has been touched for improvements and causes that are not included in the usual budget of a municipality.

The village government was the father of recreational park. It took steps to provide a permanent road for Creamery Package plant which meant the retention of that factory in the village. The municipal building was enlarged with the aid of the WPA at an expense of $3,000 to the village. There have been numerous projects which have cost local property owners, but each of which have cost the municipality some money. The support of the local nurse is another project apart from regular municipal affairs, which has entailed an additional financial obligation to the village.

Arlington Heights is a better town in which to live because of all of these things, but the flow of dollars into the treasury has begun to dwindle and the various departments of the village must hereafter be hard boiled when considering appeals for aid and needed improvements.

The village can still borrow money. Its credit is good, but the finance committee laid its cards on the table before the board Monday night. An additional $7,500 in tax warrants can be sold, which would pay present bills, but would leave the village without funds to operate the municipality the next six months. The corporate fund was overdrawn $50 last month in order to pay the regular salaries. The only immediate money in sight here next May is the sale of motor vehicle and other licenses.

The owners of motor cars last year saved $750 by purchasing their licenses during the price reduction period. The same opportunity is to be given this year, but that period is during the month of December only.

The board considered a snow plow so important to the village that a purchase will be made on the installment plan. The initial payment will be $75.

All invoices for purchases made in behalf of the village must be accompanied by a requisition order, hereafter.

Thirty-four water users have responded since mailing of delinquent notices, which has cut the delinquent list to $997.89.

Two weeks gas consumption by the various departments of the village from the municipal owned pump, was 261 gallons.

The annual financial report of the fire department presented that evening, showed a balance of $1700. The report received compliments from several of the board members.

Police committee reported fines of $294 for the past two weeks and collection of $90 additional business licenses. The police car has been repaired and "no hunting" signs have been posted in the village.

Geo. Harris, sewage plant engineer, reported repairs in sewer completed.

Bills and payroll totaling $3,863.45, were approved for payment when funds are available.

Red Cross Roll Call Starts Today

Nearly all organizations in Arlington Heights are cooperating in the local Red Cross drive which starts today and ends Thanksgiving Day. Mrs. Rex Volz, the local chairman has received assurances that a large force of workers will canvass the town.

"The Red Cross needs no introduction to the people of Arlington Heights," states Mrs. Volz, "and it is only necessary to give every family an opportunity to aid in the cause. If anyone is missed, they can call 456 by phone and a solicitor will call for the contribution."

Announcement of the local drive was made in all pulpits Sunday. A special Deanne Durbin trailer and a Red Cross picture, "Why Not Live" is also being shown this week at Arlington Theatre.

Red Cross programs will be broadcast over three coast-to-coast radio hook-ups on Thursday, Saturday and Sunday, November 10, 12 and 13.

Second of the programs will be a variety show to be broadcast by Columbia Broadcasting System from 8:00 to 8:30 p. m., Saturday, November 12. Ted Husing will be the announcer and Ben Bernie the master of ceremonies. Featured participants will be Guy Lombardo, Connie Boswell and National Chiropractic College. Articles Made By Veterans On Sale At Ida Grafts Hand made articles of war veterans at the Hines hospital are now on sale at the Ida Graft beauty shop, Arlington Hts., which sale the American Legion Auxiliary is sponsoring during the month. Crochet work, paintings, ash trays, book ends and many other tokens are on display in the window.

Mrs. Wisersky and Mrs. Rector are in charge of the work and particularly desire a "clearance sale" this week when the country pauses to honor its faithful soldiers, living and dead. Special goods have been obtained from the Veteran Craft shop at Wabash and Lake streets, Chicago, for the display in Arlington Heights.

All cash taken in will be turned over to the "bed-ridden manufacturers" who are fast learning to use their time profitably. Mrs. Rector wishes to call attention if not already sold, to some of the paintings that were made by a veteran who only recently discovered that he had a flare for doing canvas work.

Mrs. Rector or Mrs. Wisersky will be on hand every afternoon to help you make your choice of the products. They suggest that many of the articles would make excellent party and bridge prizes.

TOWNSEND MEETING

Dr. Francis E. Townsend, founder and leader of the Townsend national recovery plan, will speak at Des Plaines, November 17, at 8:00 p. m. Admission free.

Ask Bids For High School Addition

Proposals To Be Opened November 26

With the approval of the plans for the alterations to be made at the Arlington Heights high school building from the PWA authorities, office of state fire marshal and board of underwriters, the high school board is ready to receive bids for the construction.

Bids are advertised in the Herald this week. A 300 page volume of specifications accompany the proposals upon which the various trades will base their figures.

As stated by one of the building committee, there are no frills, all is honest to goodness construction, which means that every dollar of cost is put to a definite useful purpose.

The heating plant will be moved to a new structure north of present location. For the present construction will be confined to the erection of the new wing and the changes in the present building will not be started until after school ends next spring. The only interference with the present school routine by the building program, will be the elimination of the cafeteria, which service will be suspended until next year.

The estimate of cost is $167,000.

Germans Sign Armistice When Foch Meets Peace
Envoys Near Battle Front

As we go to press, the whistles are blowing, the bells ringing, the school children parading and the people cheering. The cause of it all is this short message from London:

"London, Nov. 11—The German Armistice has been signed. Hostilities will cease at 11 a. m."

That message brings a prayer of thanksgiving to many an anxious mother's heart. As the people gathered in the streets, smiles and tears intermingled. Old Glory was raised to the top of the flag staff as 200 school children sang the Star Spangled Banner. Probably such scenes are taking place in every town in this country—perhaps the world.

All are anxiously awaiting details of the Armistice terms, but confident that they are so strongly worded that there is no chance of this war being continued.

Get ready for the boys. They are coming home.

Let the democratic principles of the United States rule the world.

Arlington Boy Scout Drive Will Open Next Monday

One of the most noteworthy facts about the Boy Scouts of America is the large number of people who are interested in this organization. Perhaps no other organization has such a universal appeal or acceptance. Practically everyone realizes its importance and value, wants it to continue to function, is concerned with its progress and success and is willing to give it the necessary financial assistance.

"Who contributes to the financial support of the Boy Scouts?" is a question frequently asked. The answer is "Nearly everyone." As might be expected, the parents of the scouts as well as the scouts themselves are generous contributors. However, there are many parents and scouts who are unable to make contributions and, therefore, additional funds must be secured elsewhere.

Others who are liberal contributors are parents who had sons who were scouts; parents who have sons who some day will be scouts; parents of girls; couples who do not have any children; and unmarried people. Business and professional men and women; business concerns; churches; estates; and various civic, patriotic, fraternal and social organizations all give to scouting.

"Why Do They Give?" "Why do they give?" is another interesting question. Parents of scouts contribute because they want their sons to have the benefits of this training and are willing to share the expense for providing it. Parents who have had sons who were scouts give because they appreciate what scouting did for their sons and they want scouting to continue and want other boys to enjoy the benefits of it. Parents who have sons who will become scouts as soon as they become scout age support scouting to insure that scout training will be available in the future. Parents of girls are outstandingly generous givers because they know their daughters will have better companions if they are young men they associate with have been scouts. Couples and unmarried people help finance scouting because they want to do their part in providing scout training for worthy boys. And business and professional men and women and various organizations lend their financial assistance because they know that scouting makes a better community in which to work and live.

"How Much Do They Give?" "How much do these individuals and organizations give to scouting?" While the total sum is large, it is not Remember! Theta Iota Gamma, card party next Monday, Presbyterian hall.

St. Cecilia's Choral society of St. James church, gave a party Saturday evening in the hall, State and Rand rds. and enjoyed a fine dinner, music, dancing and games.

Married—In the First Presbyterian church, Arlington Heights, Saturday, November 5 at 2:30 p. m. Mr. Charles W. Lewis of Oakland, Calif., and Miss Marie E. Lish of Kansas City. Rev. H. A. Kossack, pastor, solemnized the ceremony.

Married—Saturday, November 5, Miss Mary Muran, N. State rd. and Mr. Collignon of Elgin.

Miss Helen Scheirich, E. Fremont st., entertained a group of sixteen guests last Friday night. The dining room was gaily decorated in colors of pink and white, suspended above table a colorful sprinkler showered gifts on the surprised guest of honor, Mrs. Matt Schweimer (nee Mae Cordes). Luncheon, games (with souvenirs), made a merry party for all.

Mrs. A. V. Crisler and daughters, Misses Frances and Amy from Glen Ellyn, called on relatives in Arlington Heights first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Intravaro with two friends, attended a "Walkathon" entertainment in the city Saturday afternoon and found it something different in line of amusement.

Miss Katherine Williams from Valley Falls, Kansas, with her brothers, Messrs. O. R. Williams, B. C. Williams and his son, Russel, came to Arlington Heights last week Thursday and surprised their aunts, the Misses Crisler, N. Evergreen ave. They spent three days calling on other relatives in Chicago. A busy happy time for everyone.

Mrs. Mary Cruickshank recently moved from North State road to Krause apartment, 10 S. Belmont ave., not So. Evergreen as stated last week.

Postponed—Missionary Society of Presbyterian church will meet November 18, instead of this week, as many friends will go to Chicago Friday to attend the funeral services for Miss Elizabeth Elfeld.

Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Bolero, who have been living in the city this summer, expect to leave here next week to spend the winter season in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Stadler, West Campbell ave., spent last Sunday evening at Barrington, where they met many friends and attended service at the Salem Evangelical church. This was the closing service of the revival this church has been holding. The large attendance indicates the deep interest shown in the services of prayer.

MAYOR'S PROCLAMATION

Each year Americans in every community are called upon to take part in a great nationwide movement to relieve human suffering and raise health standards in this country. I refer to the work done by the American Red Cross.

It is not necessary to remind citizens of our community that the work of the Red Cross is a vital contribution to our community welfare. Disaster relief, the fight against epidemics, public health nursing for isolated communities, assistance to service men or disabled veterans and all other forms of Red Cross aid to those needing help have proved their worth.

For many years our community has shared in this work through its contributions to the annual membership Roll Call of the Red Cross, held from Armistice day to Thanksgiving. Your renewed support in this year's Roll Call will insure a continuation of Red Cross work here and in other parts of the country.

I am pleased, therefore, as Mayor of Arlington Hts., to designate the period from Armistice day to Thanksgiving as the time when all members of the Red Cross are urged to renew their memberships, and those who have not yet enrolled are urged to add their names to the Red Cross membership roll.

Signed, J. D. Flentie.

Are You Breathless?

By C. W. Lussman of Sieburg Pharmacy

Many times a man or woman concludes that he or she has a heart condition because of breathlessness, or difficulty in breathing particularly in evidence after climbing stairs or some unusual exertion.

And quite often such a condition has nothing to do with the heart at all, but is brought about by a chronic bronchial condition which makes breathing difficult.

There are treatments and remedies for bronchitis, relieving the condition and working towards a permanent cure. Only a qualified physician should prescribe for your difficulty — only he can decide. Do not accept the advice of friends — consult your doctor.

His first and best aid is a competent pharmacist. Submit prescriptions to a skilled druggist.

Go To Church

By REV. R. J. KALWITZ

Do you know that in 1933 the total number of patients in all hospitals in the United States for mental cases was 173,000,000 against 123,000,000 patient days for all other diseases? Do you know that one of the outstanding psychologists in our country, after examining thousands of cases in New York City, has come to the conclusion that the people who do attend Church have significantly better personalities than the people who do not attend Church? Do you know that the Church is the greatest single force for good in the entire world, barring none?

The Church remains a "Rock of Truth" amidst many uncertainties. The Church has always recognized the prime importance of the institution of the family as far as community welfare is concerned. The Church has been quick to see the perils of materialistic atheism as it engulfed whole nations with Russia being a cardinal example. The Church continually sorrowed for those men who blindly believe that real life consisteth in the knowledge of the things which he possesseth and then to find such knowledge only mockery. Furthermore the Church teaches that the existence of evil in this world is not so great a concern as faith-hearted resistance to evil. The Church also teaches that man's greatest enemy is himself. Man fears partially because he is a creature of fear and partially because he is still ignorant of the fact that he is also a creature of faith and love and trust. Man fears for his life, but that is good only as a starting point. The Church teaches that the end of life is faith in God. "He that would save his life will lose it, but he that would let his life go will find it." Man's greatest friend and taught by the Church is That One who draws us away from our petty eccentricities, the blights of provincial ears, the palsy of a sense of utter futility; and acquaints us with Causes greater than ourselves, fills us with "new strength" undreamed of, and directs us to work in a new world whose glory at first blinds and then blesses us.

Dr. Carl Jung, internationally known psychologist, has said: "Among all my patients of over thirty-five, there has not been one whose problem in the last resort was not that of finding a religious outlook on life. It is safe to say that every one of them fell ill because they had lost that which the living religions have given their followers. Not one of them has been really healed who did not regain his religious outlook."

The value of the Church with its worship and work in the name of God is very ably presented to us by Carl G. Petri in his poem, "Without a God", which is here repeated.

"Without a God blind force alone is strong;
Without a God the world's a loveless throng;
And all the earth has neither smile nor song,
Without a God.

"Without a God I lack a guiding Light;
Without a God I know not wrong nor right;
I am a babe, flood-tossed, alone, at night,
Without a God.

"O God, You are! You hear me when I cry;
O God, You are! You help me when I try;
O God, my Love, my Life—I cannot die;
My God, You are!"

The Church is a magnet that keeps drawing the very best in man unto God. In its sanctuary men fellowship with the eternal virtues. Here in its sanctuary painful bodies, perplexed minds, and paralyzed souls find light, nobility, and release. Go to Church!

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Adam and Fallen Man" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 6.

The Golden Text was, "He that is of the earth is earthly, and speaketh of the earth: he that cometh from heaven is above all" (John 3:31).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth. And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness: So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; And God saw every thing that he had made, and behold, it was very good" (Gen. 1:1, 26, 27, 31).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "With a single command, Mind made man, both male and female. How then could a material organization become the basis of man? How could the non-intelligent become the medium of Mind, and error be the enunciation of Truth? Heaven is not the reflection of Spirit, yet God is reflected in all His creation" (P. 242).

Christ Alone Offers Hope of Peace, Dr. Maier Asserts

"The modern age which, more than any other generation has agitated for peace, has produced the most war," Dr. Walter A. Maier declared Sunday in his coast to coast Lutheran Hour broadcast.

He pointed out that 160 peace organizations were in active operation throughout the world just prior to the outbreak of the world war in 1914, yet their efforts failed to prevent that conflict.

Dr. Maier said the search for industrial peace has been similarly futile. "We have more labor unions and employers' councils than ever before," he asserted, "but more strikes and more loss of human life and sacrifice of millions of dollars in industrial warfare than ever before."

Commenting on the similar absence of peace in the present day class hatred and social conflict, Dr. Maier declared "men ought to realize that if, with all their brains and intellectual culture they cannot maintain international peace, keep state troopers from shooting strikers, and strikers from killing other workers, they assuredly cannot help men discover and preserve the peace of mind and tranquility of the soul." He asserted that if modern science cannot create external peace in matters of dollars and cents, we cannot hope to create the inner peace for the soul that no man has ever seen or can measure.

That peace, he concluded, must come from God thru Christ. Since the Christian faith has proved itself the only influence that can change the selfish heart and restrain the greedy hands of men the church's task today is to spread the gospel with unparalleled fervor.

Lutheran Church in Sound Picture Pioneer History in Big Spectacle

The Lutheran church of Arlington Heights is privileged to show to its members and friends, the unique religious sound picture, "The Call of the Cross."

It may be seen on Monday, November 14, 8 p. m. in the school auditorium. Wherever shown it has created much favorable comment. The headquarters of the church at St. Louis, have mapped out a schedule which will cover the entire country and portions of Canada.

The film is a "talkie," not a silent picture. It depicts the story of the founders of the Missouri synod, their persecution in Germany, emigration to America in three sailing vessels, landing in New Orleans, their rough, hard pioneer life in establishing the settlement in Perry Co., Missouri, erection of the first log-cabin college, and the early beginnings of the church which has grown to 1,250,000 members.

This picture is not only a correct historical presentation, but also a thrilling drama that will grip you with its appeal.

Here is a comment of one who saw the picture: "I have seen the picture twice and it has been a thrilling never-to-be-forgotten experience."

No admission will be charged. A free will offering will be lifted to defray expenses. The general public is welcome.

Boy Prodigy, 12, Sings At Rest Home

Owing to regrettable neglect, the Arlington Heights Rest Home failed to report in last week's Herald on an unusual musical event provided by some eight or ten choir members of the River Grove Baptist church, on the evening of October 26. Vocal solos, duets and trios were rendered with mandolin and guitar accompaniment. The greatest treat of the evening were vocal solos rendered by Tony Turco, the 12-year boy prodigy, who is rapidly acquiring national reputation as a singer.

The Home is deeply grateful to these talented young singers for their beautiful entertainment, and hope they will find it possible to come again at some time in the near future.

20th Anniversary Of Book Week

The week of November 13 thru November 19, will be celebrated as National Book Week, with the slogan, "New Books—New Worlds."

When Book Week started twenty years ago, children's books were sold mostly during the Christmas season, and the choice was very limited. In the last twenty years many changes have been made in children's books. Present day books are really new. The world we live in is new. All about us are evidences of physical newness. A fresh understanding of the child and his need to have the present conditions interpreted has arisen. In answer to this demand has come a flood of books from which to choose, and by wise selecting we are assisting in the betterment of the children's books.

Edith Patch's "Holiday Hill" and "Holiday Meadow" are interesting and accurate Kate Seredy's "The Good Master" is a notable one. Fine humorous ones are "Ferdinand," "Winnie the Pooh," "Mary Poppins" and "Doctor Doolittle" books, Modern Fairy Tales, "Wind in the Willows" good pictures, Helen Sewell's "Blue Barn," Wanda Gag's "Millions of Cats."

All of these and many other good and interesting books for children will be found in our Public Library. We will be glad to see you celebrate Book Week right by using them.

Miss Verona Kasten and Mr. Charles Nick were united in marriage Saturday evening, November 5 in the home of Rev. H. C. Fricke, who conducted the service. The attendants were her sister, Miss Ruth Kasten and Mr. Raymond Nick, brother of the bridegroom. A quiet ceremony. The bride party went to the home of Mrs. Eva Nick where a reception and dinner gave them welcome. The quiet air was changed when a group of merry makers gave them a serenade with tin cans and other utensils to bang on. After a speech and a treat the visiting noise makers went on their way and the Nick family and 100 guests enjoyed dinner, games and dancing until it was time to go to their homes, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nick prosperity and contentment.

Tuesday afternoon the members of the Friendly class met as usual in the church parlor, but one would have thought from the fashions worn by the guests that time had moved backward, for the costumes dated back for many years. Atties and trunks had been ransacked and many and varied were the styles. After the dessert games pertaining to the periods represented, were enjoyed.

Afternoon Lace

In a showing of all lace fashions from Paris which took place in New York recently, it was interesting to note afternoon dresses of lace created by leading couturiers. This one by Marcelle Dormoy is of venise type lace which has just the right body to drape well. Note the new length of the sleeves and the slightly draped line of the bodice, contrasting with the more fully draped girle around the waist. One of the new violet purples is used here.

MT. PROSPECT VOLUNTEER FIRE DEPARTMENT

First row (left to right)—Herman F. Meyn, Fred C. Busse, Frank J. Biermann, John Bencie, Wm. Busse, Jr. Second row—Dr. A. Wolfarth, Fred W. Busse, Alvin C. Beigel, Edwin Haberkamp, Lawrence Hodges, Frank Gerken, Wm. Mulso. Third row—Dudley Budlong, Edwin L. Busse, Fred Meeske, Richard Busse, Clarence Winkleman, Albert Juhnke, Paul Holste, Emil Greinke.

Fire Department Celebrates Twenty-fifth Anniversary

The Mount Prospect Volunteer Fire Department is celebrating the 25th anniversary of its organization by holding a banquet next Tuesday evening, November 15, at the Rand Tower. Everyone who has been a member at any time during this 25 years is being invited to the banquet.

The Mount Prospect Volunteer Fire Department was organized in 1913, the first meeting being held in the public school house on September 29, 1913. At that meeting a nominating committee and a committee on by-laws was appointed and at the next meeting C. D. Busse was elected fire marshal or chief, John Pohlmann, secretary, and L. H. Haberkamp, treasurer. At this first meeting A. E. Busse was made engineer; C. Seilhoff, captain of hook and ladder, Herman Meyn and Conrad Engelking, first nozzle men; and L. H. Haberkamp, second nozzle man.

25 Years of Service

Four of the original members of the fire department are still on the department, C. D. Busse, Wm. Busse Jr., H. F. Meyn and J. W. Pohlmann. These four members have seen many changes and improvements in the department from the original hand-drawn chemical cart and bucket brigade to the present equipment of two modern fire trucks, extinguishers, inhalator equipment, etc.

Christ Busse First Fire Chief
At the first regular meeting, C. D. Busse was elected fire chief and served in that capacity until January, 1919, when Ernest Busse was elected chief. In January, 1920 the late Joe Ehardt succeeded Ernest Busse as chief and in 1921 he was succeeded by William Busse, Jr. In 1922 H. F. Meyn was elected fire chief and served in that capacity up to May, 1929, when he resigned to take office as Mayor of our village. At the time of his resignation, he appointed Frank Biermann chief who has served as fire chief ever since with the exception of a year from June, 1933 to May, 1934 when John Bencie served as chief. John Bencie at present is assistant chief.

First Fire Bell

The first fire bell used by the department was purchased from the Arlington Heights fire department and served up to 1921 when a siren was purchased and installed on a post in back of the old bank building. That post still stands and you can still see the switch box used to sound the siren. In those days the fire equipment was kept in the Busse garage on Main street. In 1924 the present siren was purchased.

In 1914 a hand pump was purchased from the Niles Center fire department and later the department acquired a Buick chemical fire truck. In the latter part of 1928 the present La France fire truck was placed in service and in February, 1937, through a working agreement with the Mt. Prospect Rural Fire Protection League, a Darley Champion fire truck was made available to the department.

First Fire A Straw Stack

The first fire call listed in the log of the department was to extinguish a fire in a straw stack on the Herman Oehlerking farm. Since then, the department has answered a great many fire calls, some of them quite serious, but under the able leadership of its chiefs, the department has functioned in a commendable manner and deserves the praise and cooperation of every resident of the community. The Mount Prospect Volunteer Fire Department is a member of the Illinois Firemen's Assn. and also the Accident and Indemnity Insurance division of that association. In 1935 it joined the Cook County Suburban Firemen's Assn.

Rural Fire Dept. Organized

In 1936 a movement was started to have a rural fire department. Through the diligent efforts of Fire Chief Frank Biermann and several others the Mt. Prospect Rural Fire Protection League was organized in July, 1936. The territory of this league is from Palatine road on the north to Devon avenue on the south and has over 200 members on its roster. In February 1937 the Rural League purchased a new up-to-date Darley-Champion fire truck which is especially equipped for rural fire fighting.

Through a cooperative arrangement the village fire department can use the rural truck in fighting local fires. In March of this year the two departments jointly purchased a complete inhalator outfit which is under the direction of Dr. Wolfarth who has instructed the members in first aid of all kinds including the use of the inhalator equipment.

Personnel of Fire Department

The local fire department is divided into two companies, one each assigned to the two fire trucks. Company number 1 mans the American La France truck and is composed of the following: C. D. Busse, captain; J. W. Pohl-mann, lieutenant; Edwin L. Busse, engineer; Richard Busse, ass't engineer; Wm. Busse, Jr.; Frank Gerken, Dudley Budlong, Paul Holste, Lawrence Hodges, Albert Juhnke, and William Mulso.

Company No. 2 mans the Darley-Champion truck and is composed of the following:

Fred Meeske, captain; H. F. Meyn, lieutenant; Fred C. Busse, engineer; Fred W. Busse, ass't engineer; Emil Greinke, Alvin C. Beigel, Edwin Haberkamp, Clarence Winkleman and Dr. Alfred Wolfarth. Frank Biermann is chief and John Bencie assistant chief of both companies.

25 Years of Service

For twenty-five years the Mt. Prospect Volunteer Fire Department has protected the property within its jurisdiction. It has fought many tough battles and has an unusually good record. So prompt and efficient has been its handling of fires, big and little, that the general public now takes good fire protection as a matter of course. Through a constant vigilance of fire hazards, scientific training and drilling and with its modern fire fighting equipment, the department has been able to keep fire losses down to a minimum and every property owner in the community owes "the boys" a sincere vote of thanks and appreciation.

Former members of the department who have been invited to attend the dinner are:

Improvement Assn. Report Cooperation of Commissioner Busse

Prospect Heights has become such a growing community of home folks that even Cook county is giving recognition to its existence. Through the cooperation of County Commissioner William Busse, speed signs will be placed at McDonald and Palatine roads with a slow sign at Willow road. This action is taken as a safety first measure, and a protection to our citizens, against possible accidents with the increase of the population. Mr. Busse is also aiding the residents by a study of the drainage condition along Elmhurst rd. Surveyors are at work along the highway. If the county highway department approves the project, it will be constructed early in the spring. Similar measures were taken a year ago along Elmhurst road, south of Mt. Prospect. The residents of Prospect Heights appreciate the interest that has been taken by Commissioner Busse in the welfare of Prospect Heights.

Another step towards local government for Prospect Heights will be the establishment of a new election precinct with a polling place at Bob's Service Station, which will further eliminate any excuse of the residents for not voting.

The above progress was reported to the members of the Prospect Heights Improvement association at its meeting November 2, held at the school house.

A Christmas party is on the way for the school children. The ladies in charge are Mrs. V. Danielsen, Mrs. Portman and Mrs. Rodgers.

The men are making plans for a turkey shoot. Mr. Hoffman is chairman of the committee. There will be a small charge and rifle and ammunition will be supplied. Full details will appear in our next issue.

Mac Says

by GERALD A. MC ELROY

Coach Jack Grose, of Arlington, has achieved a life long ambition, that of coaching an undefeated football team. The Cardinals proved without question of a doubt their claim to the Northwest title and also the strength of the conference when they turned back the undefeated champ of the Big Four conference, the Crystal Lake team, by a score of 33-13.

It was a fitting climax to Arlington's first perfect season. The thing that to us stood out in Arlington's playing Saturday was their superior blocking. The blocking on the second play of the game which freed O'Hagen for a long touchdown run and which again in the last period mowed down the opposition to help O'Hagen score on an intercepted pass, was of the type rarely seen in high school football.

Hats Off To Mayereck

The best Arlington blocker all year has been Augie Mayereck, veteran half back, who closed three great seasons at Arlington in Saturday's game. A hard blocker, a driving ball carrier, and a deadly tackle describer Mayereck and his value to the Cardinal team.

A Coming Star

Arlington had two of the best backs of the season in Mayereck and O'Hagen and they will be missed next year, but they still have a boy remaining, who if he continues to improve, will be the star ball carrier of the league next year. We refer to Kenny Koelling who has been doing a fine job as understudy to O'Hagen.

Two More Games

Only two games remain on the conference grid schedule. If the Libertyville Wildcats can take Lake Forest on Armistice day they will have finished an undefeated season and tie with Arlington for first place. The Cats came through against Niles 19-6 by the identical score we picked for them and we believe they will beat Lake Forest, by 13-7. Both teams have fine backs but we base our prediction on a superior Libertyville line.

Niles closes the season Thursday at Leyden. The Eagles made a fine stand against Lake Forest, losing 18-7 and they may surprise Isaacson's team, but we are inclined to string along with Niles by a touchdown margin 12-6.

Maine Wins West Suburban Title

Coach Loggers' Maine heavyweights took the West Suburban title Saturday when they finished an undefeated season in league play by whipping Riverside 20-6. The only defeat suffered this season by Maine was at Elgin in an early season game 8-6. This is the first year Rogers coached the heavyweights at Maine. He replaced Turner who became head coach at Knox. Knox, by the way, beat Lake Forest for the first time in 14 years.

Rules Meeting at Libertyville

Next Monday there will be a basketball rules interpretation meeting at Libertyville for coaches and officials of Northwest Illinois and Southern Wisconsin. Art Bergstrom, Libertyville athletic director, will be in charge. Bergstrom was appointed to lead a basketball discussion at the state teachers meet at Champaign this past week-end, but had to have someone else substitute for him as he had the important duty of piloting his grid team in another conference victory at Niles Center.

Select Most Valuable Player

Over at Northbrook where they just finished their first season of football, the Adams Drug Store donated a fine silver trophy to the school upon which the name of the most valuable football player is to be engraved annually. The squad this year chose Raymond Mairback for the honor. Mr. Adams is also giving the boy a small trophy.

Match Attended by 126,000 Fans

No, this is not the attendance at one of the big football games. We have not heard of any football crowd on record. It is the crowd that attended the National Corn Husking contest staged a week or so ago out at Sioux Falls, South Dakota. It was won by Ted Balko of Minnesota who has 4,000 bushels to husk on his own farm. Who ever heard of folks traveling long distance to watch corn husked, but bring the idea of competition into this hard, monotonous farm work bringing together the champions of the middle western states and you have a great sport attraction. It is just goes to prove that sport without competition would be no sport at all and that work can become play if there are honors or rewards to be handed out to those who excel.

Lake Forest Wakes Up In Final Quarter To Turn Back Leyden, 18-7

Leyden gave the fast stepping Lake Forest eleven the scare of the season Friday, but finally were overpowered 18-7. The Eagles scored in the second period on an end run by Gates with the ball being fumbled over the goal line and recovered by Starck. McNeerney ran for the extra point. A little later O'Hara took a 30 yard pass and ran 20 yards for a Lake Forest score, but they failed to convert.

Leyden held a one point lead until the final period when a series of brilliant runs by O'Hara led to two touchdowns. Lake Forest got over the surprise meeting just in time to win. Amato and Myers for Leyden and O'Hara for Lake Forest played best. It was Leyden's best game of the season and they really played good football.

'Mac' Talks Over Cage Prospects

by GERALD A. McELROY

(This is the first of a series of articles on the basketball prospects in the Northwest Conference.)

Ela high school of Lake Zurich, undefeated in conference basketball last season, will also be an important factor in the coming heavyweight race. Wesner has three of his first five from last year as a nucleus for the 1938-39 team. Schroeder, six foot forward, is a veteran of three previous heavyweight campaigns. Herb Gleason, a small but consistent scoring forward from the champ team, and Knigge is a six foot junior guard. In addition to this trio of stars Coach Wesner has the members of a strong lightweight team which was defeated only by Palatine and then by one point and by five points.

HAD STRONG LIGHTWEIGHT FIVE

Ela's lights of last year were rangy and the best of the group were Gehrke, Anderson and Stelling. Anderson is being groomed to take the center position vacated by big Lyell Gleason who graduated. The toughest spot to fill will be that left by Leuthesser, the little guard who gave the team the pepper, confidence, and speed that were needed to make it a champion. Ela's team may be bigger than last year, and they will be mightily good, but they can hardly be as good as a year ago when we picked them as champs. They will be a first division club, but as Wesner says it depends upon how well the new boys come through.

OPEN CONFERENCE AT PALATINE

Ela has a transfer from Dundee named Peterson who may help. The Bears open the season at Hebron next Tuesday, November 15, and meet Highland Park on Wednesday, November 23, at Lake Zurich.

Palatine's first conference game is at Palatine Friday, December 2, which should be a natural since they beat Palatine twice in the conference last year, once in an overtime and Neagle with five were high for Palatine. Bensenville comes to Palatine next Tuesday afternoon.

Libertyville Wildcats Keep Record Clean By Niles Center Defeat

Enevold again had a big hand in the scoring as the title bound Libertyville Wildcats defeated Niles Center 19-6. The blonde left half ran back a punt 80 yards for the first score, passed 35 yards to Strand for the second, and ran 50 yards around end to the three yard line to set up the third score which was made by August. Niles scored on a pass after recovering a fumble on the Libertyville 30 yard line. Libertyville scored twice in the second period and the last tally in the fourth. Niles' lone counter was put over in the third quarter.

Palatine Tests Basketball Strength Against McHenry

Palatine's 1938-39 edition of Pirates opens the home schedule of games next week Friday night, November 18, when they test their strength against McHenry. There will be a double header starting at 7:30 and it will officially open the season of basketball for Palatine students and fans. The following Wednesday, the night before Thanksgiving, the Pirates will take on the Alumni in the annual homecoming game which will be followed by two hours of dancing to the music of a high class orchestra.

The practice games that have been played have brought out the fact that Coach McElroy will have to depend upon seven boys for most all of the playing done by the heavyweight team. The boys are Buenzow and Stewart, seniors; Fink, junior; and Hollinger, Snyder, DeBerger, and Hahnfeldt, sophomores.

The lightweight team has not been definitely picked. The boys who have shown to the best advantage thus far are Kenneth Birks, Henry Pasch, Billie Ehret, Richard Hildebrandt, Eugene Golden, and Edward Wiehrdt. Boys who show good signs of getting into the lightweight lineup are Ovid Neagle, John McComb, James Gleason, Edward Wild, George Howes, and Marvin Peterson.

The schedule of evening games for the season follows:

November 23, Alumni (homecoming).

Meet the Coaches

(This is the fifth in a series of articles by G. A. McElroy introducing the coaches of the Northwest conference.)

R. P. "BOB" KELTON OF WARREN

It was eleven years ago that "Bob" Kelton took over the position of athletic director and coach of the three major sports at Warren high school in Gurnee. In that time he has made a name for himself as one of the best football coaches in the suburban area. Warren has always been one of the smaller schools playing football in the conference but seldom in the 11 years has Kelton failed to have a championship contender. His 1931 team was undefeated champion. Each year it has become tougher for the small school in football as schools like Arlington, Libertyville, and Leyden have been growing away from the others in size. In spite of this Warren has held their own in football and Kelton turned out one of his better teams this year which was beaten only by Libertyville and Lake Forest.

Best Year 1931-32

At Warren Kelton has been teaching manual arts as well as physical education. His teams have annexed three baseball titles and one in basketball. The cage title also came in 1931-32, Warren's best year in sports. Warren has always been a tournament dark horse in basketball. We remember one year in particular when Warren was near the bottom of the standings but played through to the finals in the conference tournament.

Six Titles in Seven Years

Before coming to Warren, Kelton had served in a similar capacity at Decatur, Iowa, for seven years and at Northwood, Iowa three years. At Decatur he won four football and three basketball titles in seven years in the first Northeast Iowa conference. It was during this period that your writer, then a student at Upper Iowa University, came in contact with Kelton. We saw Kelton's teams perform on the gridiron and also gained a real respect for the man as an official.

He refereed college football and basketball games and umpired baseball in those days. Kelton, a type of work he has dropped since coming to the Chicago area.

Coached at Stout

Kelton's athletic career started at Eau Claire high school in Wisconsin where he competed in four sports. He continued his athletic work at Bradley and Stout. In his senior year of college at Stout, Kelton coached the varsity basketball team. He was a member of the varsity teams in four sports at Stout.

Football His Favorite

The Warren coach is married and has one son who is a student in the high school at Gurnee and a member of the football squad. Kelton picks football as his favorite sport from the standpoint of coaching, playing, and watching. Kelton has played as regulars on Big Ten teams. Samuelson of Decatur was regular guard at Iowa and Zimmerman of Gurnee regular left end at Illinois.

Warren opens a series of practice games this Thursday when they play Wauconda at Gurnee. Practice games are also scheduled with Barrington and Grant. Kelton says prospects are fair for heavyweights and not very good for lightweights.

Wauconda TO HAVE TALL CAGE FIVE

Coach Carl Herrmann has four lettermen returning at Wauconda and expects to have a better team than last season. How much better they will be is hard to determine until they have had a chance to test their strength. Smith, Turnbull, Dixon, and Stone are returning lettermen and with August will probably make up the first five. Only Smith and Turnbull are seniors and three of the best five will be six feet tall. Dixon is a really big boy, standing six feet two and weighing 220 pounds. Boys who will either serve as first team reserves or lightweight regulars are Vasey, Berkley, Krueger and Froelke.

BEST SCORERS GRADUATED

Wauconda lost most of the scorers in the boys who graduated, but this year's team has a good spirit and is coming along well from the standpoint of team work. Koppen, Schaeffer, Dobner, and Stadfield graduated.

Wauconda is the only school to lose enrollment since last year and will only have 150 boys and about 18 out for basketball has a tough time putting a team on the floor to compete against schools from three to four times as large. After the game at Warren Thursday, Wauconda plays another night game on November 23, with Northbrook before opening the conference season at Antioch.

Lutheran Fives Open Season Sat.

by CARL WEINRICH

Lutheran basketball, Northwest zone, gets under way Saturday night at the Arlington Heights high school, with four teams clashing for league leadership in two games. Six teams will meet in three games Sunday afternoon.

Arlington Heights faces Des Plaines, a strong contender last year, in the opening game at 7:45. Arlington plays again in the final game Sunday afternoon against Newwood Park. River Grove meets Glenview Saturday.

Itasca champs will start the season off against Park Ridge in the second game Sunday afternoon. Palatine opposes Roselle in the opener Sunday at 2 o'clock for the game which may prove one of the best of the season. Hans Dieking, high point man last season, will lead his Roselle five against the game which played Itasca for the final playoffs last year.

The first half of league play will close January 8, with the winner meeting the winner of the second half of the schedule, after February 26.

Northbrook Has Record Of 4 Wins, 4 Defeats In First Season of Football

Northbrook high school concluded their first season of football with a record of four victories, four defeats, and three ties in a total of 11 games played by their first and second teams. Aside from games with McHenry and Grant, Northbrook took on lightweight or frosh-soph teams.

Thirty boys reported at the start of practice at Northbrook and all 30 of them were there at the finish of the season. Only one injury was suffered which required the attention of a doctor and that was a chipped bone in one of the boy's thumbs. Northbrook played all their games away from home. Next year Northbrook expects to play a complete schedule of heavyweight games in the conference.

Arlington Lightweights Do It, Too, They Beat Crystal Lake Team, 20-6

Tuesday night Arlington's Lightweights in football won their fifth game of the season by beating Crystal Lake 20-6. Crystal Lake scored first but the young Cardinals came back strong. Orville Bolte, Frosh quarterback, ran about sixty yards to the two yard line, on a punter, then went over on a reverse. Jack Gehring returned a punt for thirty-five yards and a touchdown. Later he lateraled to White on a fake plunge. White negotiated the remaining fifteen yards for the last score.

Those playing for Arlington were: Ends, D. Heller, Bruhne, Briggs, Henken and Thoman; guards, Schrieber, Mayer, Hauptly, Rosch; guards, Remus, Kumlir, Dolanage, Rodgers; centers, Grandt and Samulovitch; and backs, Bolte, Gehring, Folkman, Heinze, Haake, White, Bublitz and Garms.

Cards End Season—No Defeats

Arlington Whips Strong Crystal Lake Eleven, 33-13

Success crowned the efforts of Arlington's Cardinals last Saturday, to close their football season with a record of being undefeated for the year. Striking with the quickness of a Joe Louis left and the precision of an automaton, they rolled up a 20-0 first quarter lead over a dazed and hapless Crystal Lake eleven and coasted in with a 33-13 victory.

Within two plays after the opening kickoff, Arlington had a touchdown. A twenty yard return of the kickoff by Rol Koenig and a twenty-one yard plunge by Mayereck started it. A crash off left tackle and a cut back for thirty-nine more yards and a touchdown by Bob O'Hagan added the coup that practically sewed up the contest then and there.

Arlington Outgained

Those game lads from Crystal Lake, while groggy from this fast start, were not out of it yet. They fought back relentlessly and while against apparent defeat outgained Arlington by a good margin. However most of this yardage was piled up in the second and fourth quarters when Arlington's second eleven was in the game.

The alertness of the starting Arlington team was the big factor in their commanding win. Quick to seize their opportunities, they capitalized on practically every break offered. Crystal Lake rolled up 16 first downs to Arlington's 4 and 294 yards from scrimmage to Arlington's 192 yards. 118 of these Crystal Lake yards, however, were the results of passes, pitched principally by a lefty, Asmen, the visitor's quarterback.

This passing, by the way, was no accident for Asmen has been doing it in practically every game this year. When it came to the payoff, however, it was the Arlington team that scored. A few minutes after that first touchdown, the Cardinals were on the march again. It took only one first down to negotiate the distance. Starting on the middle stripe, O'Hagan tossed two quick passes which drove the Crystal Lake secondary back, and he passed straight down the field and scored from the 14 yard line on a reverse.

A flock of Arlington subs went in. Crystal Lake worked up and drove on a series of short gains to the five yard line from which Vynalek plunged for their first score. This happened early in the second quarter. The rest of the period showed little gain either way.

Arlington had somewhat of a break in the third quarter, but poor signal calling by O'Hagan ruined the chance. This gave added pop to Crystal Lake's drive and passed straight down the field and scored from the 14 yard line on a reverse.

Wheeling Church Delegates Visit Stateville

Delegates to the November session of the Chicago Presbytery held at Willow Avenue church, Joliet Monday had the privilege of visiting Stateville. The visit was arranged by Rev. Geo. Olson, pastor of the host church.

This visit to the "pen" proved to be an intensely interesting and enlightening experience. After signing a pass, all members of the party were searched for "concealed weapons" before being admitted to the penitentiary proper.

The tour was conducted by Warden Ragen and included a visit to the mess hall, bakery, kitchen, a cell house, refrigerator plant, boiler room, furniture factory, tin shop, soap factory and recreation hall. Products made by inmates are not placed on the market but are sold only to tax maintained institutions. Because of the darkened weather conditions inmates were being served with their supper as early as 3 p. m. as effort is made to have all inmates back in their cells by dark.

The prison band furnished music from time to time during the meal hour, and inmates passed to and from the mess hall in orderly fashion. The tour paused awhile in the recreation room where the warden spoke on the work which Stateville is trying to do for the betterment of the men who are sent to serve time behind its walls, and opportunity for questions was given. On leaving, all guests were required to sign their passes again for identification before being allowed to pass from the main gate.

Rev. and Mrs. D. C. Morrison and Miss Lucille Schneider were delegates from Wheeling to the Presbytery meeting.

Of special interest in the morning session of Presbytery was an address by Dr. J. M. Somerville of the Board of National Missions who presented a challenging picture of the service being rendered by this board, and also of the many areas of great need still almost untouched in our nation. Following the adjournment of Presbytery, dinner was served by the ladies of the church.

Labor Conscribed for Roads

According to Chapter 422 of the laws of New York, 1886, all persons between twenty-one and seventy years of age were to be taxed at least one day a year for highway labor, except injured soldiers and sailors, priests, ministers, paupers, idiots and lunatics. Overseers of town roads were called "pathmasters." They conscribed labor for highways.

Behind Scenes In American Business

By John Craddock

New York, November 7.—Business—Accelerated by government spending, the 1938 industrial recovery continues to gain ground with experts predicting an even sharper upward movement in business indices after the election. Evidence of better business is seen in many lines. Dealers in office equipment and supplies report improved sales, and expect fourth quarter volume to be 20 per cent over 1937. Helped by warm weather which has allowed new building to go ahead rapidly, plumbers and heating equipment salesmen say that business is about 15 per cent ahead of last year. During November department store sales will more closely approximate 1937 records than in any month since last April, according to present predictions.

Washington.—Tomorrow's general elections had Capitol Hill's population and all the agencies in a dither last week, and discussion of national problems came to almost a complete standstill. When Washingtonians do get together to talk about subjects other than politics the gossip they circulate includes: U. S. retaliation against Japan's closing of the Open Door in China is indicated; increased taxes on business in the next session of Congress are inevitable, despite fast-rising business and trade indices; no railroad employe strike but rather an exhaustive study of the whole national transportation problem.

Battery Bonanza.—Every shopowner would like to report that his sales are better than they were in 1929 and that is exactly what the battery merchant will be able to say this year, if he shares the increased business predicted last week by S. B. Robertson, president of the B. F. Goodrich Company. Mr. Robertson estimated that battery sales this year would exceed $92,000,000 or 18 per cent better than last year and 7 per cent more than 1929. For such a common everyday product as the electric storage battery, Mr. Robertson gave an interpretation which is astounding to those of us who think in terms of a single battery in our car. He pointed out that the 29,913,000 automobile batteries now in use produce fully one-sixth as much energy as turned out annually by the nation's powerful turbines. Research has made it possible to make a storage battery guaranteed to last as long as a motorist's car, Mr. Robertson added. This has been done by developing non-flood devices, cedar separators, and flexible, porous, sun glass retainer mats, one of which is now placed on each side of the positive plates.

Things to Watch for.—Moisture-proof faces, too. A new electric shaver to sell for $20, including durable metal case, unbreakable glass mirror and a removable wall rack. . . . A new movie cycle, following success of review of Irving Berlin's songs contained in "Alexander's Rag Time Band" already planned for early production is a George Gershwin cavalcade. . . . Silver lining—not for clouds but for metal containers. . . . Low-priced cash register, with new safeguards against pilfering. . . . Carnations of the icebox variety suitable for men and women, available in college colors—the florist's contribution to football gamety.

Construction.—Working men and materials suppliers in the building industry heard good news last week. Although the nation's chain store companies plan few new units in 1939 in the face of generally unsatisfactory business conditions, they do plan extensive modernization of existing stores, according to a nationwide survey just completed by Frank E. Landau, of Chain Store Age. Work will be carried forward at what may be a record-breaking pace, it is estimated, with construction expenditures equaling or surpassing those of 1937, when the all-time high of $124,536,000 was spent by the industry for this purpose.

Headlines in New York.—More than $100,000,000 will be invested in trucking equipment in 1939. . . . Postage on books dropped to 1 1/2 cents a pound, may revolutionize publishing industry. . . . Looking at the earnings reports: Holland Furnace and Bristol-Meyers above last year, while Chrysler, Electrolux and Standard Oil of California decline. . . . Radio passes milestone: it was on November 2, 1929, that KDKA, Pittsburgh, made its first broadcast. . . . Now, eighteen years later, there are 32,000,000 radio sets. . . . In that span of years more than 15,000,000 autos have been added to the country's total registration together with 5,000,000 telephones and 17,000,000 electric irons. . . . Number of deposits in Christmas Savings Clubs reaches new high peak.

GOOD THOUGHTS

The noblest mind the best contentment has.

—Spenser.

If thou didst but consider how much inward peace unto thyself, and joy unto others, thou wouldst procure, by demeaning thyself well, I think that thou wouldst be more careful of thy spiritual progress.

—Thomas a Kempis.

He (God) gives us always strength enough and sense enough for what He wants us to do; if we either tire ourselves or puzzle ourselves, it is our own fault. And we may be sure, whatever we are doing, that we cannot be pleasing Him if we are not happy ourselves.

—John Ruskin.

Contentment will not dwell with him who has jealousy, envy or hatred in his heart. . . . Contentment flourishes best in a heart filled with tolerance and good will. Its strength comes from a deep, abiding trust in God.

—Alfred Grant Walton.

Spiritual living and blessedness are the only evidences, by which we can recognize true existence and feel the unspeakable peace which comes from an all-absorbing spiritual love.

—Mary Baker Eddy.

To be spiritually minded is life and peace.

—Romans 8:6.

Tried to Abolish Tobacco

King James I tried to abolish tobacco. Seventeenth century London thought it worse than the plague, despite "Professors of Smoking" who hung out shingles and taught novices to inhale and blow rings! Odd uses were legion. A Welsh judge recommended it, mixed with beer, as a cure for asthma. And Queen Caroline, wife of George III, chewed a wad every morning to clean her teeth.

Where Sovereigns Are Crowned

Westminster Abbey was the scene of the crowning of William the Conqueror in 1066 and of every English sovereign since then with the exception of Edward V. Most of the abbey was erected by Henry III in the Thirteenth century. There was a Christian church there as early as the Second century.

Fredric March, Elissa Landi Paired in Big Triumph Coming Here

A new romantic team makes its bow to film fans in Cecil B. DeMille's "The Sign of the Cross," opening Tuesday and Wednesday at the Arlington Theatre.

Fredric March and Elissa Landi are the lovers in this drama of the stirring events of Nero's reign in imperial Rome, the story of Nero's persecution of the hapless Christians discovered making the "sign of the cross," by his myriad spies.

It is the first time March and Miss Landi have played together. March is a Paramount star and Miss Landi, "betrothed" for this picture, has spent her days on the Fox "lot."

March has the role of the virile, handsome Perfect of Rome, second in command only to Nero, who falls in love with the innocence and beauty of a Christian girl and who walks hand in hand with her to meet the fierce Numidian lions — and death — on the sands of the Circus Maximus arena.

DeMille has used all the vaunted spectacular trappings for which he is noted, reports from Hollywood declare.

Catlow Theatre News

Starring Edward G. Robinson. "I Am The Law," Columbia's thrilling drama of big-city racketeering opens Friday at the Catlow Theatre for a two day showing. Supporting the star is a strong cast including Wendy Barrie, Barbara O'Neil, Otto Kruger, John Beal, and others.

Smartly dialogued, brimming with laughs, and offering finished and believable characterizations by such stellar performers as Janet Gaynor, Robert Montgomery and Franchot Tone, "Three Loves Has Nancy," comes to the Catlow Theatre on Sunday and Monday, as one of the most refreshing and original romantic comedies seen here in some time.

One of the happy features of the Jones family is that there are no Joneses. Each successive film of the popular series gives prominence to different members of the family, but the others are never far in the background. A well-rounded company, the Joneses get along famously.

"Safety in Numbers," latest of the series, comes to the Catlow Theatre on Tuesday as part of a double feature offering.

The other feature on Tuesday is "Freshman Year," with Dixie Dunbar, William Lundigan and Constance Moore.

In his latest picture, "Spawn of the North," Akim Tamiroff, the famed character actor, worked under the direction of the man who gave him his first big chance in Hollywood—it was Henry Hathaway, maker of many screen successes, who several seasons ago cast Tamiroff as the Indian emir

"Of Mice and Men" Begins Final Two Weeks At Selwyn Theatre

Local theatregoers who make it a practice of attending only the better stage shows in Chicago, are hereby notified that they will have to make haste in securing their tickets if they intend enjoying this fine play and superb performance at the Selwyn Theatre in that city. For beginning Sunday evening the play will begin the final two weeks of its highly successful engagement there and will not return, as it is booked shortly for long runs in Philadelphia, Boston and other larger cities of the East.

Chicago has surrendered to the pungent, exciting drama of John Steinbeck's widely-read story, "Of Mice and Men," with the same enthusiasm that marked its reception on Broadway, where it was acclaimed by the New York Drama Critics' Circle as the best play of 1938.

Sam H. Harris is presenting "Of Mice and Men" with Claire Luce and Guy Robertson in featured roles. Other players are Edward Andrews, John F. Hamilton, Thomas Findlay, Lester Damon, Grant Mills, Charles Slattery, Clarence Straight and Leigh Whipper.

Mr. Robertson, seen heretofore in singing roles, has surprised his Chicago admirers with his virile portrayal of George, the smaller of the two "bindlestiffs" whose strange friendship provides the theme of the Steinbeck story. With the tenderness of a fond parent, George guards the huge, stumbling Lennie, played by Edward Andrews. Lennie cannot keep his hands off anything soft and fuzzy but they are usually crushed by his fondling.

When a blonde man hunter appears at the ranch house where George and Lennie are employed, George scents trouble. His fears are realized when the girl, played by Claire Luce, is found strangled in a hayloft. A sheriff's posse goes after Lennie, but George, loyal to the finish, saves his big, blundering pal from their wrath. In doing so, he puts a tragic end to their friendship.

The Chicago drama critics have most enthusiastically endorsed the praise bestowed upon "Of Mice and Men" by their fellow scribes in New York.

"Of Mice and Men" matinee days are Wednesday and Saturday.

In his "Lives of a Bengal Lancer" and started the Russian star on his climb to fame. When "Spawn of the North" opens at the Catlow Theatre next Wednesday for a three day engagement, Tamiroff will be seen as the swashbuckling leader of a gang of Alaskan sea raiders.

"I'd Rather Be Right", Musical Show, Pokes Fun At New Deal

The eagerly awaited Sam H. Harris production of "I'd Rather Be Right," starring George M. Cohan in what has been described as a "Miraculous impersonation of President Roosevelt," comes from Auditorium for an engagement of three weeks only, beginning Monday, November 21.

Written by George S. Kaufman and Moss Hart, whose Pulitzer prize winning comedy, "You Can't Take It With You," is still fresh in our memory, and with music and lyrics by Richard Rodgers and Lorenz Hart, "I'd Rather Be Right" has been acclaimed as such a thorough razzing of the New Deal that it leaves practically nothing for the Girdron club or the Republicans to do.

As one writer expressed it, "No show has ever before taken the dome off the Capitol and used it as a cocktail shaker." Certainly the authors and composers aided and abetted by the producer have gone further than they would be permitted to go in any other country in the world. They name real names and exhibit our highest government officials in make-ups as closely resembling the originals as possible, so that we meet face to face Mr. Farley, Miss Perkins, Mr. Hull, Mr. Morgenthau, Mr. Cummings and other members of the Cabinet as they try, with the President, to balance the budget so that a certain boy and girl may get married.

To raise the necessary funds Mr. Morgenthau suggests that a national pickpocket, who could slip his hand into the people's pockets and steal what they have without their knowing it, might help but the President is afraid that this might be unlawful. Miss Perkins urges a tax on government property but to this the President remarks aside, that he thinks a woman's place is in the home.

A dozen musical numbers and a thrilling dance by Mr. Cohan send the show along at a rapid fire pace. The big production comes to Chicago on a special train of ten cars and carries the original New York cast, chorus, ballet, orchestra and band of 90.

Only one Sunday night performance will be given, Nov. 21, there will be no performance Tuesday night, Nov. 29, and the first mid-week matinee will be played on Thanksgiving Day. Otherwise the regular Wednesday and Saturday matinees will be played.

Hand-Shaking Custom

The custom of greeting by shaking the right hand was developed from the desire to show friendship or confidence. When the right hand was accepted as the weapon hand, a person would hold it out to clasp that of another, to demonstrate that it contained no weapon and that therefore he placed himself at the mercy of the other.

The "Dame" School

A type of English elementary school transplanted to the American colonies was the "dame" school. It was originated as the result of the widespread demand among the common people for the instruction of their children in the rudiments of learning. Many women (dames) set up schools in their homes teaching the elements of reading, spelling, writing and arithmetic in return for a small fee.

25th Wedding Anniversary

Surprise Party Given Rev. and Mrs. J. E. A. Mueller

The entire congregation of St. Paul's Lutheran church turned out Sunday evening, November 6, to help Reverend and Mrs. J. E. A. Mueller celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary. The party came as a surprise to Reverend and Mrs. Mueller and the large crowd packed the church to the walls.

In commemoration of this important event that took place 25 years ago, the wedding service was re-enacted last Sunday evening with the same maid of honor, the same bridesmaids and the same ushers that served 25 years ago.

In place of the past ceremony, the father of Reverend Mueller, who has since passed beyond, the groom's best friend, Pastor C. P. Dietz, of Milwaukee, was present to officiate at this ceremony and celebration.

Refreshments were served in the Lutheran school auditorium where entertainment was also furnished to the many guests present. Among the many lovely gifts received by the overjoyed "bride and groom" was a purse donated by the congregation; a beautiful floor lamp given by the Ladies' Aid, and a lovely chest of silver received from Wm. Busse and family. The entire congregation joined in wishing Reverend and Mrs. Mueller many, many happy returns of the day.

THE CHAPLAIN'S CHAT

By Captain Todd

Some unknown historian once said that the measure of a nation's life is the number of heroes and anniversaries it celebrates. History is not a case of dead men's bones, but a storehouse of seed for tomorrow's harvest of inspiration.

I like to think of those Scandinavian veterans who, when a young recruit buckled on his armor for the first time, would take him into the hall of his ancestors. As he gazed at one rugged face after another some battle-scarred poet would recite the exploits of those heroic forefathers and as the youth heard the stories of splendid sacrifice he would feel his soul glow with an intense desire to be worthy of such brave heritage.

Our own republic is young and we haven't many red letter days to commemorate, but in addition to Washington, Lincoln, Independence and Memorial days since 1918 we have added another, November 11, Armistice day. Although world peace appears at the moment to be a dream let us not give up striving. I for one cannot believe that all those lives and billions of dollars spent a score of years ago were a loss to future civilization. As we face East, let us each say a silent prayer for our comrades who gave their all, and hope that their sacrifice has not been wasted on a selfish and ungrateful world.

HOBBYISTS MEETING

R. W. Mille editor of Popular Homecraft magazine, and W. D. Golden, manual training instructor at Lane Technical high school, will address the second monthly meeting of the Basement Handicraft Guild to be held Tuesday evening, November 15, in the Embassy room, Morrison hotel.

The organization is sponsored by the Chicago Coal Merchants association as a means of bringing together hobbyists and handicrafters in the metropolitan area for friendly discussion and solution of the various problems which arise in the following of their avocations.

At the initial meeting of the group last month it was decided that regular gatherings would be held the third Tuesday of each month. An important part of each meeting will be the open forum, a period devoted to discussions by the hobbyists themselves.

A wide variety of interests were represented among the charter members of the organization, with wood workers in the ascendency. Other hobbies included the collecting of footprints of animals in stone; the building of hornet-proof bird houses; the raising of plants through chemical and rather than by the time honored custom of trusting in soil fertility, and the manufacture of things microscopic, a pursuit which requires a sharp eye, delicate tools and a powerful magnifying glass.

Owls Do Not Move Eyes

Owls' eyes are different from those of most other creatures, since they are fixed in the "sockets" by strong muscles and cannot move. This would mean that the birds would be greatly at the mercy of their enemies if nature had not arranged some way of balancing matters. What she has done is to allow the owl to turn its head round in almost a complete circle, without moving its body at all.

From "Don Quixote"

"Now blessing light on him that first invented this same sleep! It covers a man all over, thoughts and all, like a cloak; 'tis meat for the hungry, drink for the thirsty, heat for the cold and cold for the hot. 'Tis the current coin that purchases all the pleasures of the world cheap; and the balance that sets the king and the shepherd, the fool and the wise man even."

Johan Printz, a giant of a man, efficient organizer but slavedriver, became governor of New Sweden. Under Printz, Tinicum island became the first seat of government of the region that was to become Pennsylvania. 39 years before the arrival of William Penn. Printz was first to establish the jury system here as we know it.

Mulching Aids
Strawberries To Withstand Cold

Mulching of strawberries in late fall, just in advance of severe freezing weather, is a practice that will reduce winter injury to the plants in most seasons, according to A.
S. Coby, chief in small fruit culture, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

In Illinois the most favorable time for mulching is likely to be about November 1 to 15, depending upon the latitude. Following a series of heavy frosts, the temperature often continues to drop lower and becomes critical to the safety of strawberry plants. After such a series of frosts with the weather continuing cold it will be safe to apply the mulch without much danger that the plants will be injured by the mulching and with the probability that the plants will be protected when critical temperatures arrive.

Origin of Shorthand

The earliest record of an organized system of shorthand dates from the year 63 B. C. At that time a friend of Cicero's, Marcus Tullius Tiro, invented a system that was used in recording the speeches of Cicero, Seneca and others in the Roman senate. The system invented by Tiro was taught in the Roman schools.

Years Of Big Corn
Supplies Bring Low
Prices, Says Bormet

When corn supplies are large, corn prices are low. Large corn supplies in excess of current needs force down farm income from corn production, it is pointed out by Carl Bormet, president of the Cook County Agricultural conservation committee.

Production of corn in 1938 on the basis of the October crop report is expected to be about 2,450 million bushels. With the estimated carryover of 352,000,000 bushels, the years 1927, 1932, and 1933 are the only ones during the period 1927 to date when the total supply of corn has exceeded this level.

The estimated carryover of 352 million bushels on October 1, 1938, has been exceeded only in 1933.
The carryovers in that year reflected the excessive crop of 1932 when farmers suffered from 10 cent corn.

The average planted corn acreage from 1927 to 1936 is 102,610,049 acres. An average of 25 bushels on an acreage this large would produce a crop of about 2,560,000,000 bushels. That would be larger than the large 1937 crop. With a corn carryover as large as this year's carryover of about 352,000,000 bushels, the total supply of corn would be more than 3,000,000,000 bushels.

With yields as high as the 1937 average, 28.2 bushels an acre, the total supply would be more than 3,200,000,000 bushels. The only years since the war when corn supplies have exceeded 3,000,000,000 bushels are 1920, 1921, and 1932 when farmers suffered their most severe collapse of prices and incomes.

Corn farmers get the best incomes from medium size crops. Excessive supplies destroy farm income. The extremely short crop of 1936 had a market value even greater than the large crop of 1937.
The value of the 1936 crop was about $1,600,000,000, while the value of the large 1937 crop was only about $1,400,000,000.

Corn farmers need protection from price collapses which reduce their incomes. Greater stability of corn supplies is needed to improve corn farmers' incomes, Carl Bormet said.

Afghan Hound Numbered One of Oldest of Dogs

A rare dog is the afghan hound. This breed comes from the greyhound family and that makes it one of the most ancient of dogs, according to a writer in the Philadelphia Inquirer. The origin of the afghan dates back into the misty ages, when probably the pyramids were in the course of construction.

Maybe it borders upon being an ambiguous statement, but nevertheless it was once written somewhere, "that Noah took two afghans with him into the Ark."

An afghan hound closely resembles the greyhound, except that he has a wealthy silky coat of hair covering his body and hair on all legs.

There is a close resemblance between the afghan and the saluki, another dog from the land of burning sands. The saluki or gazelle hound, has a shorter coat of hair, but has almost the same type of skull as the afghan.

Afghan hounds are heavier than greyhounds, and because of the extra avoidupois, are not as fleet-footed as dogdom's fastest member. Every inch of the afghan designates aristocracy and refinement. These dogs keep their narrow head poised high atop of a well arched neck. A knot of silky hair adorns the top of their skull. The muzzle is long like the greyhound and saluki, while the jaw is also straight and a punishing one.

The dog is well equipped for speed, inasmuch as the legs of afghans are long and muscular. The front legs are straight as an arrow. Afghans are narrow at the shoulders, which is another asset for celerity. Their ribs are well sprung and the extreme tuck-up in hind quarters is much like the greyhound, and their hind legs are especially long from the hips.

Why Bills Were Called 'Continental Currency'

Continental currency flourished during the Revolutionary war period. This was the term applied to 40 issues of bills of credit or paper money which were put out by authority of the Continental congress from June 22, 1775, to November 29, 1779. In all, this currency amounted to a face value of $250,000,000, recalls a writer in the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The bills were promises to pay, based upon the pledge of congress to redeem them in "Spanish milled dollars, or the value thereof in gold or silver." No date for their redemption was given.

The reason for their issuance was that the congress had no fiscal powers and no authority to levy taxes. There was, moreover, not enough faith in the prospects of the Revolution being successful for the congress to be able to borrow much money.

The notes, being unsecured by any real value, quickly depreciated, and at the beginning of 1779 they were able to pass for only one-eighth of their face. At the end of the year their ratio to specie was 38 to 1. In 1780 the congress itself recognized its inability to maintain their value and provided for their acceptance in place of silver at a rate of 40 to 1. In 1781 the ratio fell to 100 to 1, and in 1790, by the terms of a funding act of that year, provision was made for redeeming them, up to a certain date, at that ratio. Those which were unredeemed were thereafter without value and no longer circulated.

Ancient Mining Methods

The mining methods of the ancients consisted of heating the face of the formation with an open fire, then throwing water on the heated surface. This caused the rock to crack. The miners then worked on the shattered rock and vein with stone hammers, copper wedges, chisels and gouges. By this difficult method they sank shafts as deep as 50 feet and excavated trenches 100 feet wide. In some pits, masses as large as 6,000 pounds were raised up on cribwork. "It is difficult to imagine what these miners expected to do with these enormous masses of metal once they did get them on the surface," says one scientist, "because they had no means of separating or removing any but knobs or pieces of copper projecting out from the main body of the mass."

Country's First Coal Mines

The first coal found of which the discovery is recorded in the area now known as the United States was that on the Illinois river in northeastern Illinois. The discoverer was Father Hennepin. His records were dated 1698. Coal was first mined in the United States in 1750, the property thus developed being in the Richmond basin of Virginia. In 1760 coal was mined at Fort Pitt, Pa., and in 1768 in the Wyoming valley of northeastern Pennsylvania, also of Portsmouth, R. I.

Protozoa, Single-Celled Creatures

Protozoa is the name given to all single-celled creatures, some microscopic, some as big as a half dollar. They vary among themselves and may be as different as a man and lobster, both of which have many cells, says the Washington Post. Some are beneficial and serve as food for other animals. Others combine when dead to form chalk and sandstone. Still others cause dangerous diseases in men and animals.

Rabbits Are Vermin to Many

Almost everywhere in Europe, except England, the rabbit is considered vermin and treated consistently as such.

Terrier Gets His Name From Latin Word 'Terra'

Terriers get their name from the Latin "terra," denoting the type of dog that "goes to earth," or in plain American digs and beards the quarry in its underground lair, observes Edwin McK. Johnson in the Chicago Daily News.

The breeds included in this variety group follow: Airedale, bedlington, bull terrier, cairn, dandie dimont, fox terrier (smooth and wire-haired), irish, kerry blue, lakeland, llhasa, manchester, schnauzer (miniature and standard), scottish, sealyham, skye, staffordshire, welsh and west highland white.

The fox terrier, probably best known of all is used on the fox-hunt, when the fox goes underground. The fox terrier is usually carried by one of the hunt riders in a "knapsack" and goes into action when the larger hounds corner the quarry. There are two types of fox terrier, the smooth coated and the wire coated, both being alike structurally. The wire coat, which appears on welsh, irish, airedale, scottish and others, is considered the perfect coat.

The smooth-coated terriers include the popular bull terrier and its cousin the staffordshire. Both are aggressive and courageous and with their well set-up bodies and power make fine protectors.

The manchester terrier is one of the oldest varieties, being (like most others) from the original old english black and tan terrier stock.

The dandie dimont, roughly, has the appearance of the cairn, but is longer and lower in body. A mass of hair on the face identifies the low-slung skye terrier.

The irish is one of the gamest of the terrier family, having been used for such unbelievable work as lion hunting. The kerry blue runs this breed a close second for courage.

There are other terriers, better or less known, like border terriers and llhasas.

Lakelands, like borders, take their name from localities and districts of England, as do airedales (Aire valley), kerry (Kerry county) and staffordshires.

Snowy Owl Resident of Both Old World and New

The snowy owl is something of a fisherman, as well as a mighty hunter. It has two methods of catching fish. One of them is to fly along just above the surface of the water until it locates a fish, whereupon it reaches in and grabs it with one claw. The other method is to lie in wait on some rock, or perhaps a piece of ice, until the moment comes to strike. Although nocturnal, the scientific name of the snowy owl, is a word taken from the Greek nyktos, which means nocturnal, the owner of the name does not confine itself to the hours of darkness for hunting, but is quite active in broad daylight, relates a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The snowy owl is a resident of both the Old World and the New, living in the northern sections of both. For a nest it usually scrapes a hole in the soil on a ledge of rock or some other spot that is somewhat higher than the surrounding country. While it is usually wary and shy, both the father and the mother bird will unhesitatingly attack a man if he comes close to their nest while there are eggs or young owls in it.

Were it not for the fact that its head is almost perfectly round, giving it rather a comical appearance, the snowy owl would have to be rated as our most beautiful owl. It is a big fellow, attaining an average length of about 23 inches, the female being slightly larger than her mate. The normal color of this bird is white, with a larger or smaller number of narrow horizontal bands of black all over the body.

Pencils Used in Writing

The kind of pencil which is used to write on slate makes its mark on the slate because the slate itself is hard enough to rub the pencil down when it is pressed. If you try to write on paper with a slate pencil, the paper will tear because paper is too soft to wear the pencil down. The slate must not only be hard, but also a little rough to have the pencil mark effectively. Have you ever tried to write on a blackboard with a grease spot on it? If you have you can easily understand why roughness is essential to the proper wearing down of a slate pencil. For the same reason, neither an ordinary lead pencil nor a slate pencil can make a mark on glass because the glass is too smooth. It hasn't sufficient friction to wear the point of the pencil as the pencil is moved across its surface.

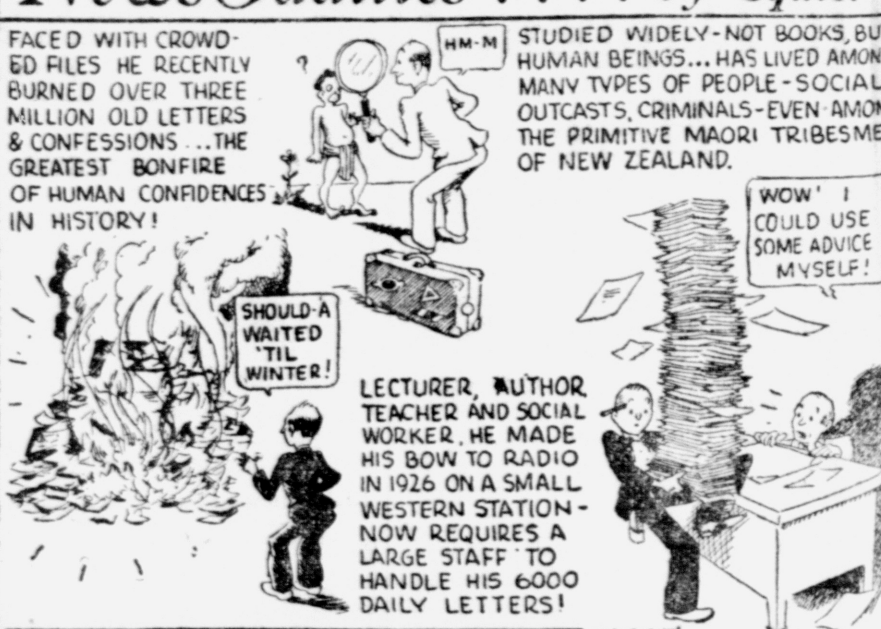

Onion of Lily Family

The greatest blot on the onion's reputation is the fact that when peeled it excites the nose and eye nerves of its handlers, makes them weep copiously. But actually, it's just a misunderstood "black sheep" of the lily family, asserts a writer in the Washington Post. Originally it grew wild in western Asia, and has been cultivated since prehistoric times. The Egyptians, with great insight, called the strong plant a god on earth. By long cultivation, the onion has been bred into dozens of different-appearing plants. Truly a naturalized American, the onion grows in every state. As a commercial crop, it is more valuable than any other minor vegetable, except tomatoes, lettuce and cabbage.

Know Their Eggs

Snakes will not swallow a spoiled egg. They can tell the good ones from the bad ones by touching the shells with their tongues.

Brilliant Chicago Auto Show Set For Opening Saturday

Original, Spectacular Feats of Showmanship to Highest Classic

Pace setter of the nation, the 39th annual Chicago Automobile show outstanding for brilliance, originality and completeness—will make its bow to the public Saturday in the International Amphitheatre, Halsted and Fort-third sts. It will continue daily, including Sunday, through a week from Saturday, the hours being 11 to 11.

Upholding and enhancing the reputation of the Chicago Automobile Trade Association for starting innovation, the executive show committee has provided much that is new and stimulating as a setting for and glorifying of, the 1939 products of motordom.

The show itself gives the only opportunity of the year for the public to see, inspect and compare all that's new in this great industry under one roof.

On view will be every make of American-built motor car for 1939, leading makes of trucks and trailer coaches, late model used cars, and a wide variety of accessories and education features.

The featured spectacle in the central arena, flanked by seats for 19,000 spectators, will be "An Age of Wheel Progress," produced by John Ross Reed and depicting vividly the evolution of transportation from the close of the Civil War to the present.

During the interlude there will be a participation by "nationality queens" of 14 countries, namely, Poland, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Italy, Yugoslavia, Norway, Germany, Lithuania, The Netherlands, Greece, and Denmark.

Other highlights of the show will be the "Hall of Science," a cooperative effort of manufacturers with the central arena as its locale; the Used Car Show and Sale in the north wing of the first floor, a feature presented for the first time in connection with a major automobile show; and the Automobile Book of the Year 1938, containing articles by leaders of the industry, talking points, specifications and prices of all the 1939 motor cars, and other invaluable data.

The sale of admission, it is announced, will be 40 cents up to 4 p. m., 55 cents, including tax, thereafter, and 25 cents at all times for children 12 years of age or under.

PROSPECT HEIGHTS

by NAN RAUEN AND LAVERNE MILLER

Sorry that little Jerry Moeller is on the sick list again. We surely wish him a speedy recovery.

Maud and Harry Williams attended the opening game of the hockey games last Thursday and report an excitable evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Sobwick and Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, of Elmhurst rd., made a short trip Sunday afternoon up to see the beautiful church at Holy Hill, which has just been completed.

Anyone in the community who is desirous of having fire protection from the Mt. Prospect Rural Fire department, should see either Mr. Busse or Mr. Bierman, of Busse-Bierman Hardware Co., in Mt. Prospect.

Mr. and Mrs. Oakley moved into their home on Elmhurst rd. about a week ago. They have three little girls, one of them is as new as their house since she is only two weeks old. Congratulations.

Congratulations are in order at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Spillar, to whom a 6 pound 5 ounce son, was born on Friday, November 4, at the Berwyn hospital, Berwyn, Ill. Mrs. Spillar and baby, Bruce John, are doing very nicely and since this is their first child, Mr. John G. is getting along as well as can be expected.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Neilsen entertained their neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Neilsen, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Steele and Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Rauhen, to a delicious Italian spaghetti dinner last Saturday evening. Everyone had a hilarious time and returned to their respective homes early in the morning, declaring Anne and Jim the perfect host and hostess.

Little Alice Lancaster fell down the basement stairs last Saturday and got quite a bump on her head. Glad to report that she is all right again.

Food of Caterpillars, Butterflies
With us humans, it is the older generation that eats solid, hearty rations and the infants that are carefully fed on more delicate fare. In the butterfly world the conditions are reversed: the adults sip nectar from flowers while their young offspring, the caterpillars, chew leaves.

Indeed, some butterflies never eat at all. Their mouthparts are undeveloped and they live their few weeks in the sun, mate and lay eggs, and die when they have used up the stored reserve of food in their bodies, accumulated during their caterpillar days.

Wilmington Was Willingtown
Wilmington, Del., once was called Willingtown, the Encyclopedia Britannica says. In 1731 a large part of the present territory of the city was owned by Thomas Willing and was called Willingtown. In 1739 a borough charter was granted by William Penn, and the name with two slight changes was altered to honor the earl of Wilmington.

WHO'S WHO

Mr. and Mrs. John V. Cowling, and their two daughters, Jean and Nan, moved from Chicago into our community on April 26th, of this year.

The Cowling residence is located on Willow road, between Elmhurst Road and Schoenbeck road. Jean and Nan, ages 11 and 10, both attend the Wheeling Township Grammar school on Palatine road, and like it real well, so well in fact, that they just don't like it when they have a holiday from school. Both girls like to read, and Jean likes to draw. The girls were both born at Harvard, Ill.

Mr. Cowling was born in Kansas City, but moved to Chicago, and received his education in Chicago, therefore he considers Chicago his home town.

Mr. Cowling operates a Wholesale Fancy Grocery Line, specializing in Jellies and Preserves.

Mrs. Cowling was born in Bristol, Wis., but later moved with her parents to Harvard, Ill. Mrs. Cowling likes to bake, and she also likes to knit sweaters for her family.

Mr. Cowling's hobbies are gardening and reading.

The Cowlings have only one pet, their canine "Dickie."

The girls had a dog, and then a couple of cats, but just at present they have only the canary.

Boys Better Science Students Than Girls, Says Conger, Principal

High school boys are far better students of science than high school girls. This is the interpretation placed on a report of the Bausch & Lomb Science Award Committee by Mr. A. M. Conger, principal of Arlington Heights Township high school, who said the survey showed that 83 per cent of the medal winners in science were boys and 17 per cent were girls.

The survey was made from reports on medal winners in science representing high schools throughout the country.

Mr. Conger stressed the fact that the Bausch & Lomb Award is only given for scholastic achievement in science and hazarded the opinion that male supremacy does not extend to all studies in the high school curriculum.

While the evidence is not conclusive, there appears to be a distinct tendency for pupils who rank high in their graduating classes to rank high in the scores in college freshmen tests and to follow these tests with high college marks, the survey disclosed.

This award was won last June by Julius Holmquist, who is enrolled as a freshman this year at the University of Illinois.

Aspasia Was Influential
Aspasia was a beautiful Athenian woman noted for her genius, wit, and political influence. After her marriage to Pericles, who repudiated his wife in order to wed her, her house became the meeting place for the learned men of Athens. Socrates was one of her admirers. She was indicted for impiety, but Pericles successfully defended her in court.

It Happened Here

This noon hour has a charmed hush, nature waiting for some mysterious transubstantiation while the translucent chalice of amber wine is let down thru the golden haze; peace is symbolized in a leaf falling leisurely from branch to branch and settling at last as if from choice among its unnumbered, unregretting companions; if peace has a color, it is this overtone of lovely dull gold in which the still unstripped trees and bushes, yes, even the grasses and asparagus bed, seem to swim, nature's patina on the riotous colors of a few weeks since. The maple's last wizardry of scarlet and gold seen thru the intervening trees is a trophy from the days of chivalry, the glittering, jeweled panoply of Lancelot riding down to Camelot; birds slip quietly thru the trees as the fearful of breaking an enchantment; two bluejays search the old apple tree, peer into the flicker's hole and then drop silently to the ground, their color the exact note for this illuminated missile, the edge perhaps of the Madonna's robe just touching the earthy brow of the leaves. Little, neatly tailored juncos play tag in and out among the weeds, flicking their white tail quills; the cardinal warms the underbrush by foraging among the dead leaves with unpretentious democracy, despite his royal regalia, and a robin—perhaps the last robin—hops about scattering the leaves and seemingly testing them for covering strayed Babes. The four poplars above the garage, slim as wands, are the Queen Maries dressed in gold tissue over willow green; when they bow and curtsy and the sun filters thru their diaphanous robes they are a miser's dream of opulence. . . . Raking and burning after dark while "the Moon of the Falling Leaves" rides high over the ridge-pole sets the seal upon Indian Summer; the heart dances like an American Indian or Red Man as the sparks fly upward; the sparks crawl slowly at first, writhing like small, fiery worms eating away these cast off vestments, then they merge into a golden dragon spouting flames—Arthur's "Dragon of the great Pendragonship . . . making all the night a steam of fire." S'Amuser.

FILES SUIT FOR $10,000 AUTO DAMAGES

A. F. Volz has filed suit in Superior court for $10,000 damages against Robert Hintz for injuries in an automobile accident in Northbrook November 1, 1936. It's got looks—and so have you!

EYE OPENER! With all its extra value, this Buick sedan lists at $51 less than last year!

It makes the eye glad and grateful—you spot that the instant your gaze takes in this sparkling Buick for 1939.

It's sleek and swift and businesslike, lean and clean in every line, the trim bonnet low-set, the graceful upper-structure light-and-airy looking, neat and fine.

Will you step in, please, and look it over closer?

Why, it's almost like being in an open car, with the outlook you've got here!

The long nose tapers quickly out of eye-way, the pillars modestly retire to the background, overhead stop lights drop into easy vision—ahead, to right, to left, you can see!

The ruler will tell you there are as much as 413 added square inches of safety glass in this Buick, and these inches are placed where they count.

It has a lot to do with making Buick beautiful, this grand expanse of openness!

And like "catwalk-cooling": radiators low where air pressure is greatest—and the lines of the bonnet: broad, clean, aerodynamically better—

Buick's stepped-up visibility both sets a pattern and fills a function.

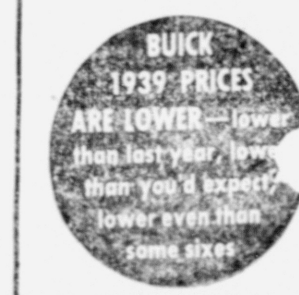

So take a good look into its bigger, better, broader outlook. It's one thing among many that Buick's got that you'll want in your next automobile.
